Driver of Machine in Which Two Girls Were Hurt Disappears From Hospital

ARRESTS ARE MADE

Thirteen persons were injured in automobile accidents throughout the city yesterday.

Four persons were hurt in West Philadelphia, two in a collision of cars at Forty-seventh and Locust streets.

When the automobiles came together an overturned and pinned Raymond Scott, eighteen years old, the driver and only occupant, beneath it. He was taken to the Misericordia Hospital where he was treated for cuts and bruises.

Meyer Goldsmith, eighteen years old, who was in the other machine, was slightly cut by glass when the windshield was shattered.

Sarah Mackay, twelve years old, of 840 South Allison street, was injured when she was struck near her home by an automobile driven by Louis Peresch, 1120 South Fifty-first street. She too was taken to the Misericordia Hospital suffering from cuts and bruises.

Leon Weisberg, three years old, of 910 North Marshall street, was struck by an automobile and slightly hurt at his parents' home on Spruce street. With his parents the boy was visiting relatives and wandered into the street while playing with children.

Attempting to avert a collision with another automobile at Marshall and Jefferson streets late Saturday night, a chauffeur, whose identity is unknown, overturned his car, which struck the curb and overturned. With him were two girls who were spilled on the sidewalk. All three were taken to the Children's Homeopathic Hospital.

The girls gave their names as Elizabeth Wynne, nineteen years old, of Ridge avenue and City Line, and Kitty McFadden, of 4085 Dexter street. Both have painful bruises and lacerations and the former's skull may be fractured. While the boys were being attended to, the chauffeur, who had a few cuts and bruises, disappeared. The wrecked car bore a Pennsylvania license tag No. 1002, and the police say a car with that number is listed as stolen.

Struck by an automobile at Broad and Vine streets, Oscar Yoblick, thirteen years old, of 1302 South Franklin street, while riding a bicycle, was thrown to the pavement. Although his knee was badly wrenched, he refused to go to a hospital. The driver of the machine, Edward Bostwick, of 2385 Susquehanna avenue, was arrested.

Helen Wichter, nineteen years old, of 2325 Lee street, was injured in collision at Broad and Spring Garden streets, and Hannah Arnold, nineteen years old, of 2127 North Twelfth street, and

TEACHERS TO LEARN OF WELFARE WORK

Federation Invites Them to Meetings to Hear Instructions on Plans

TO PASS THEM ON TO PUPILS

Pupils of the public schools will learn details of the work of the Welfare Federation through instruction of all teachers and principals. A letter sent out by the Board of Education invites the teachers to attend meetings for the purpose, the first to be held today.

"There is no thought of collecting money in the schools," says the letter. "But the spirit of a welfare federation is so thoroughly a matter of good citizenship and so thoroughly in accord with the teachings prescribed in our course in civics that the subject is deemed of sufficient importance to warrant our calling the teachers together to have the general plan outlined at first hand by those directing the campaign."

The schedule of the district teachers' meetings, to be addressed by Mr. Ludlow, director of the campaign, follows: Today, West Philadelphia High School; tomorrow, William Penn High School; Wednesday, South Philadelphia High School; Thursday, Frankford High School; and Friday, Germantown High School.

The first big meeting of the federation's corps of speakers will be conducted in the South Garden Room of the Bellevue-Stratford tomorrow at 5 o'clock. Addresses embodying instructions will be delivered by Mr. Ludlow.

Comfortable?

WHEN Grandma was a girl she had to get up in the morning and "start a fire"—that's why she, especially, appreciates the Simplex Sunbowl Radiator.

Nowadays she just attaches the Sunbowl to an electric light socket and enjoys real comfort, secure from the chilly weather outside.

Sometimes Grandma does off to sleep and leaves the current turned on—but it's safe. The heat can only reach a certain degree. Let it bring comfort into your home.

PRaises Port Facilities

French Line Ship Captain Has Good Word for Loading Advantages

The loading facilities in this port are far superior and the "turn around" here is much quicker than any port in the Atlantic or Gulf coasts.

Such is the opinion of Captain Hunter, of the French Line Steamer Grelfyria, which loaded 3500 tons of general cargo in three days, four hours, and sailed from here yesterday for Havre and Bordeaux. The short time in which the merchandise was transferred from the dock, Pier 98 South, to the vessel's hold was a record in loading for the ship, Captain Hunter said, in commenting on the fact that he had never seen more expeditious cargo-handling in any port than shown here in the loading of the Grelfyria.

Geyelin & Co., 108 South Fourth street, are agents for the steamer.

This port at present has ten large piers in active commercial use; one is being built at Chestnut street; two are being constructed at Porter and Wolf streets, and two more will be finished above Market street within the next year.

SLOGANS FOR NOVEMBER

Chamber of Commerce Issues Suggestions to Advertise City

In a continued effort to give Philadelphia world-wide advertising, the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce has issued to business men, industrial establishments, hotels and restaurants its list of slogans for November.

These slogans tell of the greatness of the city in diversified lines of endeavor and are being used on letter-heads, envelopes and advertising matter of Philadelphia business and industrial establishments and on the menu cards of hotels and restaurants, so that the messages go over the world.

The November list follows:

"Ten dollars from 100,000 boosters puts up that million-dollar Sesqui-Centennial fund—have you your ten?"

"Port of Philadelphia handled 1,425,000,000 gallons of oil last year—More power to the port!"

"Congress first convened in Philadelphia—good example for all organizations holding conventions."

"Philadelphia leads in making hardware and machine tools—workshop for expert shop work."

"Philadelphia has 750 textile mills—with weaves that wear, we've won the world."

Some Wise Remarks on Business and Prices

Governor W. P. G. Harding, of the Federal Reserve Board, in an extended review of present conditions, says "the tide of business has turned." This brief extract from Mr. Harding's statement is well worth noting:

"The surest sign that the opportunity to do business is here is that the MOVEMENT OF PRICES, WHICH HAS BEEN STEADILY DOWNWARD, HAS CHECKED ITSELF. Not all commodity prices are going down—some are going up—which means that prices are seeking an equilibrium. Prices went up, then they went down, now they are readjusting themselves.

"We have passed through the most trying and dangerous part of the readjustment period. If we can all get together and aid the orderly processes of production and distribution, and get the public out of the idea that buying must stop because prices may go lower and lower indefinitely, then we shall get stability into the situation. THE PUBLIC HAS A GREAT BUYING POWER, and buying power begets buying power. When one important industry revives, others automatically revive. AND INDUSTRIES ARE REVIVING."

Prices here are all down to the lowest level, and our customers know it—and prove it by the great and increasing activities every week.
